

YOU ARE INVITED TO SPEAK!

Friday, February 7, 2020 — 11am soundcheck — 1pm-6pm event — 177 Prince Street, New York City

OUR SYMPOSIUM

We are excited about how technology is changing the world — VR/AR, AI, Deepfakes, Generative Art, Cybernetics, Blockchain, Crispr, and all the emerging sciences. We believe that seeing the world through the eyes of varied experts can have greater value than staying in our own lanes. We invite you to alter our audience's perception by showing the world through your amazing perspective. Provoke epiphany. Share your untold stories, controversial views, and courageous conversations.

OUR AUDIENCE

Founders, CEOs, Inventors, and Creative Directors, our participants are all principal creators of products which impact the lives of many. There is no application; invitations are by referral only.

MAKE 3 SLIDES

You will have 7 minutes to address your topic, and we ask that you supply exactly three slides to support your points. Preference for a single image or a single word on each slide; simplicity is strong.

ASK 3 QUESTIONS

You will be paired with someone in a field that relates to yours. Please prepare three questions for them, with as much advance notice as possible. We need to send your questions well in advance, so that they have time to prepare their responses. Our curators can provide you with more detail.

ANSWER 3 QUESTIONS

Your counterpart will have three questions for you. We will provide you with those questions as early as possible. Please prepare your answers in advance; expect to have 2 minute for each answer. You may prepare a single slide for each, to visually support your answer — if you choose.

FOLLOWUP VIDEO Q&A

We do not allow realtime Q&A, but participants may ask questions in a video booth. We will forward relevant questions to you after the event. Please plan to answer via recorded Skype session, which will be edited into your talk. We will screen out the nonsense, and give you ample time to think.

DOPAMINE DETOX

During our events, participants check all devices securely at our registration desk. Our concierge has a phone number you can give family or work for emergencies. On-stage proceedings are recorded and shared, but off-stage is private. Our hosts can connect guests, so business cards are unnecessary.

THE FUTURE OF DRAM

Starting in 2020 with 32 guests for a half-day, we are doubling each year until we hold a 3-day retreat in 2024 for 512 guests. This is a special opportunity for you to be part of the dawn of something new!
